

Work with the pilgrimage-sites in the world

The call of the pilgrimage sites is to understand as a call of Mother Earth herself to her children, who have forgotten her voice, her love and her receptivity as a living creature. Many power- and healing-places became tourist- and pilgrimage-sites and are no longer places where the human being is looking for its own roots.

Many of us have forgotten to esteem, to care and to visit their own temple within and receive impulses for their lives from there. At the same time they have forgotten to esteem and to bless those holy places and to stay in communication and connection with them. From the very beginning, pilgrimage-sites were places where people meet, communicate, cultivate connections and have a spiritual exchange.

Shaped by principles of faith and perceptions, these pulsating places became places of mystic, sorcery, depots of inner and outer loads, sorrows, fears, doubts and illusions. The harmony of nature, which from the very beginning is based on the giving and taking, has been deeply hurt and disturbed in its balance, which is easily visible at sites of pilgrimage.

The priority of being, Man, in many ways, has been reduced to the material and substantial. But, just like you, those places equally, consist of the physical, the mental and the spiritual. The physical body stands for receiving, creating and birth giving, the mental for feeling accepting and dedication. Just as the one who embraces spirit, reflecting it and send out the answers by intuition.

If the searcher is not open for the inner stillness and for listening, how should the spirit of the place transmit answers and messages? The old perceptions and imprints that these places, are places of power, healing and pulsating ascending vitality and energy, is only a part of what has been handed us down from the past. For communication it is essential, to have a sender and a receiver, the part of taking and giving to enable reception and dedication. All this happens on all levels, because growth arises not only out of the seed itself. Everything is in a state of motion and change.

Rigidity and crusts from past will break off like old sores and come up, calling for change and clearing. People coming to these places are mostly lost, rootless, sick in body and soul, having forgotten their connection to the source and to spirit itself, lacking inner balance and harmony.

Places of pulsating spirit (Genius Loci) have become places which are toilsome, stressed and burdened. The spirit of Man has been focused on materialistic things, power and success, the ego has taken over. Equally the spirit of the pilgrimage-sites could no longer be aligned – and they became sites of business, money and dark feelings. Nature has lost her splendor and expectations entered, instead of welcome and gratitude.

To feel a place or a site, also implies to feel your own feelings, to see the pictures with which the place is showing itself, to look into the faces - reflecting the own inner sight.

Mother Earth opens up her arms to receive, to ask for redemption and relief for herself and her children. She no longer wants to serve a busy, emotionally shaped mind, but be nourished and realigned by the high level of the source, in keeping with the harmony of the universe.

Sense of duties, thoughts of merits and rewards are limiting the flow of life, sensibility and intuition. The material barriers are equal with the mental and spiritual barriers which separates Man from each other and from all that is.

Oh Man, come into your inner room of stillness and listen, enter the room of your heart, which God created for you as a holy temple. If you are able to listen - and not only nod with your head saying yes, yes, or no, no - but be open for the carrying and nourishing womb of Mother Earth, also reflecting what you have given her, and open the doors for power and the light of the spirit, then you will be able to regenerate and brighten up these places and sites being the bridge between heaven and earth, so that these places and you awake from the wheelings and dealings of bygone times.

What the physical body of mother earth and her holy and healing places requires, is equal to what the human brain needs to be in connection with the higher spirit. If you re-connect with your own intuition, your inner essence, you will receive pragmatic answers to the issues you search insights for.

Man be wise and understand your inner ability for connection and intercommunication. Being the link for healing and growth that can happen on these places, it will equally happen in you.

The Genius Loci asks for the feeling, the hearing, the tasting and the seeing. By connection and healing of all places you have been called to, each place will find its new alignment and order.

This being the action for these places: Give them a new face and change them into places of awareness, insights, respect and love.
